The hacked computer

No pictures

Steven jumped with excitement. Tomorrow was his birthday! He was five turning six. At school, Steven couldn't wait for tomorrow. He couldn't wait to get his new, fresh computer. His friend Josh asked Steven about how rich his family was. Steven replied, "$250,000".

At the end of school, Josh asked, "What if something happens with your new computer?"

That night and the curiosity of what type of computer he was going to get eventually took over his excitement.

"I can't wait, I can't wait," he raced through his mind. After one or two hours, he went to sleep. In his dream it was his birthday and he got a computer but it didn't work. The next day, Steven raced down the stairs and immediately went on Amazon with his mom's computer and saw the cheapest, best quality computer, the one Steven wanted. It was $1375.99. Steven's mom raced downstairs and clicked the "Buy now" button. It noted that it was going to arrive in 5 days.

After 4 days, Steven had already done enough waiting. After his mom wished goodnight, Steven was so excited that he couldn't fall asleep. After 6 hours and 59 minutes, Steven finally fell asleep. The next day, he was so excited that he ran outside and imagined, as he ran downstairs, he imagined a beautiful spectrum of colors was everywhere.

"Finally, I get to see my new computer," Steven thought. When he got outside, a big, enormous package was outside, waiting for Steven. He ripped open the cardboard box and saw a red, shiny computer. Steven held the computer in his hand and felt the smooth metal in his hands and ran inside the house. He then immediately plugged his computer in the charger and waited. He waited a few minutes and opened the computer and set up his account. First, the screen was black and then it looked like this-

Set up an account!

Then, Steven typed in-

Set up an account!

Password-tiger 4 username- Steven 1225

Then, Steven clicked the submit button and the computer looked like this-

Saving...do not turn off the computer...

Steven typed in his email and followed the rest of the directions. The computer looked like this-

Steven clicked on the "Click here" button and downloaded a bunch of apps.

The next day, Steven's dad told Steven that there's a criminal and is hunting for kids and hacking computers. His dad also told him that his name was the same as Steven's family name, Stevenson.

Steven bought his new computer for school. At recess, Steven let Josh play with the computer. Suddenly, a bee went on Josh's arm and Josh screamed and hurled the computer out of his hands. "Noooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooooo!" Steven cried, hoping that the computer would fall into someone's hand and catch it. The computer swung open revealing Steven's username and password. Luckily, another person caught the computer in his hand. "Who are you?" Steven asked the person. "I'm Alfridi, what's yours?" "Steven and Josh, let's be friends!" They walked together as they went to eat lunch. The next day, Steven turned on his computer. But instead it looked like this-

Steven looked confused as to why the computer was showing some random letters and words. He clicked the screen and this happened-

Sorry, we've detected an error

Error 265 was caused by intense pressure in the google apps section.

Steven was so confused and pointed at the screen, "Mom, look!"

A few seconds later, Steven's mom came rushing about in the stairs. She looked and uttered in confusion "What happened?"

Steven stated, "I just turned on the computer and this-". Steven pointed at the screen. "I think that criminal, Stevenson."

"But being hacked by Stevenson is very rare," he pointed out.

"No, it's common." Steven's mom whispered cautiously "I read it in the newspaper, 200 people get hacked every day. Police are searching everywhere looking for that criminal".

"Let's report to the police!" He exclaimed quickly, hoping the criminal would be caught. Steven grumbled because he had planned to have a new computer, but now this!

As Steven fell asleep, he made a list of stuff he was going to do tomorrow-

1. Wake up
2. Eat breakfast
3. Convince mom to buy me a ...

BOOM!

Steven panicked as he struggled down the stairs. The loud sound had just shocked his ears. Steven's mom was downstairs, but she was near a grenade bomb that just exploded. "It was Stevenson," Steven's mom groaned. Her leg was bleeding from the explosion. Next to her was a computer chip stuck on the wall

The next day, Steven's dad bought some tickets for Steven and it was so he could search the criminal, with the police.

Steven looked to his right and saw a computer. It was his birthday computer. There it was and Steven carefully opened the computer and this popped up-

He sighed and turned off the computer.

Steven kept clicking the screen until this popped up-

Hi! I am Stevenson, let's be best friends!
Steven typed in this, so the criminal could tell his secret info and data and the police could track the theft down.

Ok! Hi, where are you?

This popped up-
I am in Oxford street-

Steven told the police and they went straight to Oxford Street but no one was there!
"He tricked me!" Steven blurted out. Steven opened his computer laptop again and this showed up-

"I think I need a plan to stop this criminal," Steven thought.

The next day, Steven asked Josh and Afridi to find the criminal and tell the police. After school, he told Josh and Afridi about the story and they went straight to oxford street. A note was carved in the stone on the school. It was this-

TEERTS REBMA OT OG

"Maybe it's a cypher?" Josh asked.

"Sure it is," Steven replied.

Steven, Josh, and Afridi worked on the sulfur until..."I GOT IT!" Afridi exclaimed

"What is it?" Steven asked as he gazed at the bright sun.

"It's- GO TO AMBER STREET!" Afridi told them. The 3 of them walked to Amber street.

"Another cypher!" Steven pointed out.

TEERTS LAMRON OT OG

"The same type of cypher" Afridi grumbled. "It says to go to Normal Street"

We went to Normal street.

A piece of paper was on the concrete floor. It read out as-

REDNU

"It says under, but what is under supposed to mean?" Steven asked, hesitating.

"I think it means to go underground," Afridi told them.

"Come on then, Afridi and Steven, stay here and I'll go home and get a shovel," Josh ordered

A few minutes later, Afridi came back with a shovel. They started digging. After a few minutes, Josh announced "We need to buy one of those mole diggers in Digging Depot. Those cost $400."

"Let's see how much money we have.  $200.67+30.34+6*2+(4+4.65)=251.66$ . So we have $251.66".

"We need to start earning money!" Josh exclaimed.

The next day, Josh sold apples his mom grew. Afridi worked on landscaping and Steven worked on selling lemonade. A few days later, they counted their money.

" $251.66 + 3 * 6 + (40+35)+65=409.66$ " Afridi .

"Hallelujah! We have enough money for the mole digger!" Steven exclaimed.

Steven, Josh, and Afridi went to Digging Depot and found the cheapest mole digger.

The tag read-

Mole Digger! 50% Off!

Only $200.75! Buy NOW!

"$200.75 please" The person in the checkout lane grumbled in a low tone. After Josh, Steven and Afridi paid , they went to Normal Street and began working. It was in a few minutes that Afridi cried "We're not digging deep enough!"

Josh pressed the "advanced dig" button and the mole digger started whirring faster and faster in almost the speed of sound. Suddenly, the mole digger began rusting and creaking, BAM, it exploded! "Oh no!" Afridi cried in hope they could fix the mole digger before it got melt in the sun. It was setting fast. "Maybe we could analyze it tomorrow"

The next day, Steven opened his computer and this popped up-

Steven sighed and clicked the screen once more. The screen was all black and, with a slight grunt, he turned off the computer. Steven met Josh and Afridi on Normal Street. "We're fixing the mole digger. All that was broken was its heat shield, if it ever burned up," Josh pointed out.

Afridi was using the screwdriver to attach the nails to the mole digger so the heat shield could stay in place. Then, something went wrong. The heat shield fell off and the engine broke off and all the electric wires came loose. Electricity was flowing everywhere.

Josh shouted "Afridi! What do we do?"

Afridi got a plastic bag and got near the electricity and in a quickmove, wrapped all the electricity up.

"How did you do that?" Steven asked. "I read about it in a book."

"It's called... The Book of Electricity by John Brill." Afridi replied. "Now let's get back to work," . They all worked on fixing the mole digger.

After a few minutes, Steven exclaimed "Now I get it!" "What?" Josh asked.

"So once, I turned on my computer and my computer screen popped up to this-

"I didn't know what was going on, but now I do! You need to add  $(78+26+5)+409284+35$ ," "Which equals to 409428," Steven continued.

"Why?" Josh asked.

"I copied it onto a paper, then downloaded it into an image that had those numbers, then a cypher that told me to add  $(78+26+5)$  and + the other numbers of the icon on the computer screen. Basically a cypher told me to do all of it" Steven replied, then taking a deep breath.

"So we need to type 409428 as the password and 824904 as the username," He opened the computer and typed in- password 409428 username 824904. This popped up-

Buy mole 5 to dig under nor.st

"I think it means we have to buy mole digger 5# to dig under so we can get to Stevenson," Josh suggested.

"And...oh! I just thought of how Stevenson hacked my computer" Steven told them.

"How?" Afridi asked.

"Remember that time when Josh threw my computer?" Steven replied. "Well, maybe Stevenson peeked under the computer and saw my username and password".

"Let's go save up to buy a mole digger #5!" Josh stated excitedly, trying to end the subject.

"Mole digger #5 costs $100!" Afridi moaned.

"That a lot!"

"We can't just get $100 in 3 days, we need to borrow $100," Steven told them.
"Let's borrow money from your mom!" Afridi suggested to Steven.
"Well, Catch ya guys later, I'm going to borrow money from my mom! ghng ghc cgh"
Steven turned around and started to run.
"What the heck-" Afridi asked.
"Sorry, a- learn to speak spanish radio coming from my pocket ," Steven replied before running off down the road.
Steven raced inside his house and asked "Mom, can I borrow $100?".
Steven's mom handed Steven $100 before Steven took the money and raced out the front door and back to Normal Street.
"Hey," Josh said. "Let's go buy a mole digger #5!". Josh, Afridi, and Steven went inside Digging Depot and they wandered around a while. Suddenly, Steven saw a tag on top of a mole digger #5 and it read this-

Mole digger #5

Rent- $40 per week
buy- $700

"Josh!" "Afridi! Come here!" Steven called out. A few minutes later, they had rented the mole digger.
"I have a plan," Afridi told them. "Once we get to Stevenson, we get inside, fight the crooks and call the police and we all get a million bucks".
"Great plan," Josh told, sarcastically.
Steven turned the mole digger #5 to advanced dig and the mole digger dug into almost super-sonic speed! Steven turned on the computer and this popped up-

Stevenson recording-progress-856-808%

Then, the computer read out, "Hi, I am Stevenson".
"Is the computer talking or is this Stevenson?" Steven wondered.
"This is Stevenson. Do you copy?" "It is Stevenson!" Steven thought. He answered, "I am Steven". Then, he quickly shut the computer.
"It's getting dark," Afridi pointed out. Josh went to get some sleeping bags and they went to sleep.

After 5 hours, they woke up and turned on the mole digger and suddenly, the mole digger came to a stop. "Cannot dig through metal," The mole digger buzzed. "We've reached Stevensons base!" Josh cried. Josh pulled out a hammer and furiously began smashing the metal. Soon, the metal broke up revealing a tunnel "Come on," Steven called. "Let's meet Stevenson!" The 3 boys crawled into the passage. There were spiders, snakes and cockroaches in the tunnel, but it was worth it. They crawled through the tunnel for hours until they heard laughter. "It's Stevenson," Steven told them.

"Luckily, I have my hammer with me," Josh told them. With one mighty smash, Josh was able to crash the metal so they had room, up the passage, and back up the tunnel. Once Josh got up the ladder, Josh called Steven and Afridi up on the tunnel. They tried to call 911 but their phones were hacked too. The phone screen looked like this-

"Yay!" Afridi cried. "We're not hacked anymore!"

Josh dialed 911 and the police came rushing to Normal Street.

"We've got Stevenson," Steven told the police. After he told them the whole story, the police went in the tunnel and caught Stevenson

Red-handed. Then lured him under arrest.
